Quality of Life Improvement

I was diagnosed with psoriasis when I was 11 years old. By the time I was in high school, the doctors labeled my condition "severe". I tried every kind of remedy on the market, and by the age of fourteen, my parents allowed me to begin making all my own decisions related to my health. I took some risks with experimental medicines, endured some uncomfortable treatments and learned to live with it. In 2001, I was diagnosed with psoriatic arthritis. I used mostly biologic treatments involving IV infusion or shots along with oral medication that inhibits cell growth.

For a variety of reasons, I had to stop all medications in November 2010. By April 2011, my skin was totally out of control. My legs and arms were virtually covered with psoriasis again. It was the worst it had been in many years. After a lifetime of dealing with this, I have a very high threshold of pain – but this episode was affecting everything from my ability to sleep to dealing with daily life.

Experiencing MicroSilk®: As an executive in a decorative plumbing & hardware firm, I was hearing talk about Jason's innovative new product and the positive effect MicroSilk technology can have on skin. I wondered what effect it might have on skin like mine. In May 2011, I began taking twice a week soaks in a Jason tub with MicroSilk technology. The entire night after my first soak, my skin tingled for hours! The next morning, the psoriasis patches appeared to be less irritated, less red in color.

Life with MicroSilk®: After continued use, I found that while the psoriasis did not go away, it reduced the irritation drastically and my skin began to feel softer. I was able to sleep better at night and was less on edge during the day. Soaking in the highly oxygenated water truly has made great difference for me. While using MicroSilk has not cured my psoriasis, it has positively impacted my ability to deal with it. With two or three soaks per week, I am able to reduce the amount of medication I apply to my skin. It's really great to do something so healthy after a lifetime of chemicals!

I plan to keep MicroSilk as part of my routine because I feel it makes as positive an impact on my ability to deal with psoriasis as my medication does.
